RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT: “To ensure that graduate students experience this kind of informal learning, doctoral programs at WVU generally require at least two semesters in residence on campus. However, an individual student or graduate committee may propose an alternative plan by which the student can gain equivalent educational experience. This plan must be submitted in writing, approved by the college or school dean or designee, and placed in the student’s program file.” The Graduate Catalog (2016-17)

Brief Description of Alternative Residency Plan:

Associate Dean, Graduate Education

NOTE:

Time to Degree Completion for Doctoral Students (effective 07/01/2017)

Doctoral students admitted to any degree program within the College of Education and Human Services are allowed a maximum of 10 years (20 semesters, not including summer terms) – from date of admission to successful defense of the dissertation – to earn the degree. Students may have up to five years (10 semesters, not including summer terms) to successfully complete the dissertation, post-comprehensive examinations. Exceptions to this policy will be determined on a case-by-case basis, by appeal to the Associate Dean for Graduate Education, where necessary (e.g., student leave of absence due to illness).
